activity descriptions

art: painting

with Tiffany Pawlyk
(Wellington, FL)

Everyone's favorite Tie-Dye Instructor Tiffany is switching it up for Virtual Camp! Join her for this fun & easy painting class that utilizes oil pastels to paint gorgeous landscapes. These classes provide a process suitable for all levels of experience you'll just following Tiff as she paints along with you. (Think Bob Ross, but much cuter!)

- W/Th/Sa 3:30-5:00pm
(Painting subjects: W – Night Ocean Scene / Th – Sunset Mountain Scene / Sa – Sunrise Lake Scene)
- No art experience necessary.
- Feel free to join Tiffany whether you want to paint along with her or just observe and chat.
- Non-sequential; attend any or all session(s). (Each class features a different subject for the painting as noted above.)
- Bring: Click here for a list of supplies you'll need to order in advance if you want to do a project during the class. (You can also join just to watch if you didn't get around to ordering your supplies.)

building a terrarium

with Mary Ellen "MEM" Mahan
(Birdsboro, PA)

Join MEM for a fun & informative overview of both open and closed terrariums, including terrarium history, construction, design, and maintenance. You'll make an open succulent terrarium during the class, and MEM will demonstrate the construction of a closed terrarium, explaining why they are constructed differently than an open terrarium. While it may not be the perfect substitute for the woods of southwestern Maine, this is a great way to get a little green/nature fix during Virtual Camp!

- T/W/Sa 1:30-3:00pm EDT
- No experience necessary.
- You do not have to create a terrarium during the session to attend.
- Non-sequential; attend any or all session(s).

- Bring: Click here for a list of supplies you'll need if you want to construct your own terrarium during the class.

'camp' camp dance dance

Gary Burmeister
(Norton Shores, MI), DJ/Host

Go out on a high note at the last official 'Camp' Camp event of the season. Camp DJ GB will be spinning an awesome selection of tunes certain to be the cure for your end-of-Virtual-Camp blues!

- Sa 8:00-10:00pm EDT
- Wear: Whatever you like

closing circle

with Kerry Riffle & Betsy Orr
(Hollywood, CA / Portland, ME)

Join the Camp Directors for a virtual version of our traditional Closing Circle. A great way to say good-bye to all the Camp friends you've made during the week and – if you wish – share about your Camp experiences, whether virtual or from past years.

- Su (8/30) 2:30-3:30pm EDT
- Speaking during the closing circle is not required. You're welcome to join just to hear others' thoughts on their week at Virtual Camp.

contemplative photography

with Andie Lawrence (Taos, NM)

Join first-time instructor Andie for this brand new Camp offering! Contemplative Photography is an awareness meditation practice where our camera, tablet, or smartphone becomes a vehicle for experiencing the freshness of the moment through direct visual perception. Based on the practice of Miksang (Tibetan for "The Good Eye"), this practice is based on the Dharma Arts Teaching of Chogyam Trungpa Rinpoche. Through a simple three-part process, Andie will teach you how to work directly with the elements of the visual field – color, light, form (texture & pattern), and space – to experience a joyful shift from habitual, conceptual, and analytic mind chatter towards more consciously seeing the stunning, uncontrived magic of our phenomenal world.

- M/Tu/W/Th 3:00-4:30pm EDT (Part 1: M/W & Part 2: Tu/Th)
- Final Project Art Show (for all sessions): Sa 3:00-5:00pm EDT
- This is a two-part class (plus the final slideshow on Saturday) and attendance at both sessions is highly recommended to experience the full range of the practice.
- Parts 1 & 2 of this class should be taken on subsequent days (i.e., M/Tu or W/Th).
- No photography or meditation experience is required.
- Bring: camera, smartphone, or tablet, whichever you are most comfortable using to take photos
- All are welcome to join Andie for the Project Art Show on Saturday afternoon to marvel at the beautiful photographs taken by your fellow Campers!

cooking:

bubbe's banchan redux

with Deb Kayman (New York, NY)

Join Deb, Camp's self-proclaimed Bubbe (Jewish grandmother) and one of our most popular cooking instructors, for this virtual spin on one of her most popular classes. That's right: Bubbe's Kitchen is going Korean again! Banchan is the Korean word for a table set with dishes that complement each other. They're nutritious, light, vegetarian, quick to make, and – best of all – tasty. At the center, somen (thin wheat noodles) topped with julienned summer vegetables and a simple sauce. To complement this refreshing noodle dish, we'll also make quick pickled radishes & cucumbers and some spicy tofu. Yum!

- M/Th 1:30-3:00pm EDT
- No cooking experience (kosher or otherwise) is required.
- Feel free to join Deb whether you want to cook along with her or just observe and chat.
- Bring: Click here for a list of supplies you'll need if you want to cook along with Deb during the class. A PDF of all recipes will be provided during the Zoom.

cooking: mamère's bayou kitchen

with Brett Auttonberry
(Slaughter, LA)

We ain't boujie, cher. This class is about a culture and some good, ol' time, down-on-the-bayou cooking, jus' like Mamère used to make, yeah! Brett's class will focus on the slow, deliberate, and relaxed process of making a proper roux, the base of many Creole and Cajun comfort foods. Preparing a roux allows ample time for conversation, so the class will also explore how the food and the culture of South Louisiana are intertwined and – in the end – will also yield delicious signature dishes that utilize a roux, like Creole Shrimp Etouffé and Cajun Chicken & Sausage Gumbo. So come relax, chat, learn – and channel your inner Princess Tiana with Brett!

- F & Sa 2:00-5:00pm EDT [Friday's class will prepare Etouffé, Saturday's will prepare Gumbo]
- No cooking experience is required.
- Feel free to join Brett whether you want to cook along with him or just observe and chat.
- Trigger warning: Wine/spirits will be consumed as part of the cooking process in each class.
- Bring: Click here for a list of supplies you'll need if you want to cook along with Brett during the class. A PDF of all recipes will be provided during the Zoom.

crafts: chainmaille

with Amy Putnam (Claremont, NH)

When you think of chainmaille, you probably think of knights on horses and jousting, right? We bet you didn't know that chainmaille makes lovely jewelry, too. Join Amy to discover the basics of this ancient art of connecting metal rings together to create lovely, interesting patterns. She'll introduce you to a few basic weaves that you can use to make your very own bracelet. A (Virtual) Camp souvenir for the ages!

- W/Th/Sa 2:00-3:00pm EDT
- Saturday's session is an Open Studio for both Chainmaille and Cross Stitch projects. (No projects can be started that day, but you can join to finish your projects, ask Amy final questions, share final projects, etc.)

- No experience necessary.
- Feel free to join Amy whether you want to create along with her or just observe and chat.
- Non-sequential; attend any or all session(s).
- Bring: Click here for a list of supplies you'll need to purchase in advance if you want to do a project during the class.

crafts: cross stitch

with Amy Putnam (Claremont, NH)

This is not your grandmother's cross stitch! The craft often invokes mental images of our elderly relatives making samplers or cutesy images. Sure, you can do that. Or, you can make pride flags, snarky sayings, odes to your favorite films and TV shows, and much more. Today, you can find more patterns on more (and diverse) topics than you can imagine. Supplies are inexpensive and easily acquired, and it's a great stress relief, stabbing something hundreds of times, while having something pretty nifty to show for it when you're done.

- M/T/Sa 2:00-3:00pm EDT
- Saturday's session is an Open Studio for both Chainmaille and Cross Stitch projects. (No projects can be started that day, but you can join to finish your projects, ask Amy final questions, share final projects, etc.)
- All sessions will focus on Pride flag patterns as they are good, simple starting points for beginners. (See supply list linked below for choices, etc.)
- No experience necessary.
- Feel free to join Amy whether you want to create along with her or just observe and chat.
- Non-sequential; attend any or all session(s).
- Bring: Click here for a list of supplies you'll need to order in advance if you want to do a project during the class.

disco bingo

Maxi Chanel (Ypsilanti, MI), Host

It's on (again), bitches! Join Camp's own Maxi Chanel, everyone's favorite Bingo hostess-with-the-mostest, and a few of her fabulous friends for a disco-themed evening of high-energy, super bingo fun with prizes – and (no doubt) a few surprises, too!

- Tu 8:00-10:00pm EDT
- Bingo cards will be distributed in advance to all registered Campers. The cards will allow you to play and mark your card from a second browser window or smart phone/tablet, or you can print them out if you have a home printer.
- Participation in the games is not required. Feel to join just to watch.
- Bring: Your bingo card(s) ready to go in a second browser window or on your smartphone/tablet – or printed copies with something to mark your cards during multiple games (dried beans, spare change, or another similar item work well)
- Wear: some disco-era finery ...or come as you are!

front porch time

Our Campers tell us that it's the people they meet at Camp that keep them coming back year after year, and since hanging out with your cabin mates is a big part of connecting with other Campers, we've made a space for you to hang with your cabin mates for a few hours before dinner. Haven't been haven't been to Camp before (or in a long time)? Don't worry: you can see who's hanging out at the Virtual Picnic Tables, or we'll assign you to an appropriate cabin. That way, when you end up joining us in person in Maine in the future, you'll already have some folx you know to bunk with!

- M-Sa 4:00-6:00pm EDT
- The link for this event will take you to a main room (a/k/a the Virtual Picnic Tables). Breakout rooms will then be used to send you off to your assigned (or desired) Virtual Front Porch.

games: cards against humanity(ish)

with David Kass (New York, NY)

This one is not for the faint of heart! Join DAK for some virtual sessions of Cards Against Humanity-inspired hilarity. For those still uninitiated (really?!), Cards Against Humanity is a card-based party game in which players use the cards in their hand to complete fill-in-the-blank statements using words or phrases typically deemed as offensive, risqué, or politically incorrect. Using an CAH-inspired online interface, you'll be able to play this sometimes-cringe-worthy but always-hilarious game with your Camp friends. Don't worry, you'll laugh your _____ off!

- o M/W/Th 10:30pm-12:30am EDT
- o Gameplay is limited to 12-15 players per round, but multiple games may be played per session.
- o A second browser window or tablet is required to participate in gameplay as the game interface is internet-based. (A smartphone may work, but may be awkward with the interface.)
- o Observers welcome if you think you're too shy to play this one.
- o Allbad.cards is the website where you'll access the games. DAK will provide the gameroom code during the session.
- o Bring: a second browser window (in addition to your Zoom window) or a tablet; a willingness to be witness to and create some potentially offensive sentences games: fishbowl

with Charlie Farison
(Arlington, MA)

Charlie will lead you and your fellow Campers through this fun, three-round guessing game where the players provide the answers, clues, and the hilarity! Fishbowl is a virtual, expanded spin on the party game Celebrity, where two teams play through three different rounds, each in the style of a different classic game (Taboo, Charades, and Password) using the same set of clues for each round. Whichever team correctly guesses the most clues at the end of the three rounds wins!

- o M/F 4:00-6:00pm EDT
- o Gameplay is limited to 20 players per game, but multiple games may be played per session.
- o Charlie will place participants into teams, so join with friends or join by yourself. This game is a great way to meet people!
- o Please be prompt logging into session as, once the first game begins, it's difficult to add players.
- o A smartphone or tablet is required to participate in gameplay as the game interface is internet-based. (A second browser window also works.)

- o Fishbowl-game.com is the website where you'll access the games. Charlie will provide the gameroom code during the session.
- o Bring: your wits and guessing skills; a smartphone or tablet (recommended, but a second browser window also works) to access the online gameroom games: jackbox

with Charlie Farison
(Arlington, MA)

Join Charlie as they moderate a few hours of wacky fun playing a series of the popular online Jackbox games with your fellow Campers. The games are super-fun variations on classic games like Pictionary, Balderdash, and trivia games, but with a decidedly modern twist. Trust us: you'll have a blast!

- o Tu/Sa 4:00-6:00pm EDT
- o Gameplay is limited to 8 players per game, but multiple games will be played per session.
- o Jackbox allows for an unlimited number of audience members in addition to those playing (and audiences can even vote for their favorite answers, etc.), so you can still have fun just observing or while you wait to rotate into a game.
- o No purchase of the Jackbox software is necessary to play, but a smartphone or tablet is required to participate as either player or audience member. (A second browser window also works.)
- o Jackbox.tv is the website where you can access the gameplay. Charlie will provide the gameroom code during the session.
- o Bring: your wits and willingness to be silly (or a smartass); a smartphone or tablet (recommended, but a second browser window also works) to access the online gameroom games: werewolf

with Ken Nash (Greensboro, NC) & Christina Koeritz (Lawndale, CA)

The ongoing late-night sensation is back! Do you like group games with lots of laughs, twists and turns? Then join Ken & Christina for a few rounds of Werewolf, a fun social game of light role-playing, bluffing, and tons of intrigue. Normally played seated with simple rules and no "acting" required, this game lends itself perfectly to playing on Zoom. (Just ask the regular crew of Campers who have been playing twice a week since April!) Suspenseful, strategic late-night FUN!

- o T/F/Sa 10:30pm-12:30am EDT
- o Multiple games may be played per session, but gameplay is limited to 16 players per round.
- o You're welcome to come and observe the first round of gameplay and then fill in for others after the first game.
- o Bring: paper or Post-It notes & a sharpie which you'll need for voting during the game, your poker face (yes, bluffing may be involved!), and your glasses if you need them for reading chat messages on Zoom ice cream social

Grab a favorite frozen treat from your freezer and join us at your computer for a virtual version of this traditional opening night Camp event where you can get re-acquainted with old Camp friends and welcome new ones.

- o Su (8/23) 7:30-9:00pm EDT
- o Breakout rooms will be available to facilitate small-group chatting.
- o If you haven't been to Camp before, don't worry: our Campers are great at making new folk feel welcome, so join in!
- o Bring: your favorite frozen dessert

introduction to american sign language

with Nancy Theriault
(Hartland, VT)

American Sign Language ("ASL") is a great & fun way to communicate with others without using speech. ASL is a beautiful language with syntax and grammar all its own. Though this two-part class will be very basic, it may spark your interest for taking further classes. The class will also touch just a little bit on Deaf culture.

- o M/Tu/Th/F 3:00-4:00pm EDT (Part 1: M/Th & Part 2: Tu/F)
- o This is a two-part class and attendance at both sessions is highly recommended.
- o While Part 1 is a prerequisite for Part 2 of the class, you do not need to attend each part on consecutive days.
- o No experience needed.

introduction to classical music (for the perplexed or already converted)

with Liz Diamond (Chelsea, MA)

Whether you're already a classical music fan, would like to dip your toe in the waters of Classical Music, or have no idea what "the last movement Beethoven's 9th Symphony" even means (let alone listened to it), this class is for you! In this short one-hour teaser class, Liz will offer up lots of musical examples and resources – and you'll even be able to e-mail her with any questions post-class. C'mon... class(ical) it up a bit!

- M/W/F 1:30-2:30pm EDT
- No music experience (classical or otherwise) needed.
- Bring: a pen & paper in case you want to take notes lgbt history: the history of 'camp' camp with Kerry Riffle (Hollywood, CA)

Join Kerry, Camp's current Owner/Director, for a fun & informative trip down memory lane. Kerry (and a very special guest or two!) will discuss the early years of Camp, from the concept to early stumbling blocks and successes to memorable moments from the past 23 summers. You'll learn how Camp many traditions started (and maybe about some that faded) and discover a better sense of how Camp has changed over the years – yet how Camp has always been celebrated by so many Campers who attended as the best time ever!

- F/Sa 1:30-3:00pm EDT
- Both sessions will cover the same material, but you may attend both if you wish as attendee participation will inform the discussion to some degree.
- Bring: those questions you've always had about 'Camp' Camp (hopefully, someone will have the answer!); a favorite Camp moment or two to share in case there's time

a, like, totally '80s dance

Gary Burmeister

(Norton Shores, MI), DJ/Host

Tease up those bangs, grow out that mullet, and throw on that puffysleeved dress (or that pastel cotton blazer with a pastel t-shirt), 'cuz our first dance of the week is gonna be pure 1980s, y'all! Join GB, everyone's favorite Camp DJ, for a night of nothing but tunes from the '80's sure to get your inner-Jennifer Beals moving. C'mon... get out of that corner, baby, 'cuz you just might have the time of your life!

- Th 8:00-10:00pm EDT
- Wear: your favorite '80's fashion, or just come as you are

morning coffee kiki

with Darin Dietiker (Slaughter, LA)

Grab a cup o' Joe (or Jo) and join Camp's Coffee Mistress Darin around the Virtual Lodge Fireplace for this early morning hang out. At Camp, we have a small-but-hearty gang of folx who are up with the chickens (and, boy, is THAT an inside joke if you know Darin!) each morning to gather around the Lodge Fireplace to wake up with a steamy cup of coffee & some early a.m. conversation before everyone else is even thinking of rising.

- M-Sa 6:00-7:30am EDT
- If you haven't been to Camp before, don't worry: our Campers are great at making new folx feel welcome, so join in!
- Wear: whatever you slept in, or whatever you're wearing for the day (or something in between)
- Bring: your early-morning beverage of choice

'night night caps

Join us for this virtual version of our late-night Best Time Wine & Coffee Bar. Close your Virtual Camp day with your favorite alcoholic, caffeinated, or other beverage – provided by YOU, of course! Relax with fellow Campers in the privacy of your own home, getting yourself ready for a peaceful, Camp-dream-filled sleep. A perfect way to end your day.

- M-Sa 10:30pm-12:30am EDT
- Breakout rooms will be available to facilitate small-group chatting.
- If you haven't been to Camp before, don't worry: our Campers are great at making new folx feel welcome, so join in!
- Wear: your favorite sleepwear or cocktail attire
- Bring: your beverage of choice

opening circle

with Kerry Riffle & Betsy Orr
(Hollywood, CA / Portland, ME)

Join the Camp Directors for a virtual version of our traditional Opening Circle where you'll officially meet all of your fellow Campers. ... C'mon, you know you've been missing all those beautiful Camp faces. (And you won't have to stand out in the hot sun this year!)

- Su (8/23) 5:00-6:30pm EDT
- Have your dinner queued up so it's ready to go afterwards, and you can come back and join us for an Ice Cream Social at 7:30pm. (See separate listing.)

positive psychology boot camp: finding opportunity & happiness during chaotic times with Deb Levy (Cambridge, MA)

In this time of crisis and uncertainty it can be hard to look beyond our daily struggles and invest time and energy in developing new resources and skills to help us move from surviving to thriving. In this workshop, Deb Levy, beloved Camp alum and business & life coach, will introduce positive psychology strategies to help navigate the pandemic in ways that facilitate growth and transformation moving forward. In each workshop, she'll share Positive Psychology principles and research-based activities to help you regain control over your happiness and enhance your well-being through COVID-19 and beyond.

- T/Th 1:30-3:00pm EDT
- Each session will contain slightly different content, but are non-sequential; attend either or both.
- Sessions will be interactive & fun, so come prepared to learn & play!

presentation party

Cameron Dunn (Brooklyn, NY),
Producer/Host

A BRAND NEW 'Camp' Camp event, perfect for Virtual Camp! You know something the rest of us probably don't know, and we want to hear about it! Could you give a primer on the personalities in The Real Housewives of New York, describe the best ways to bleach your hair based on traumatic experience, or quickly break down the history of each song on a Classic Lesbian playlist? Whether funny or serious on a subject important or trivial, just whip up a PowerPoint or Google Slides presentation and teach your fellow Campers about something you love (or hate but for some reason know way too many facts about).

- o M 8:00-10:00pm EDT
- o Sign-up required by 6:00pm on Sunday (8/30), as available presentation slots will be limited. To sign up, e-mail directors@campcamp.com with the subject line "Presentation Party" with the title and a short description of your presentation.
- o All presentations must be 5 minutes or less.
- o Have as much fun with your presentation slides as you want! Use all of those animations & special effects you were told to avoid in the past, or make the entire presentation consist of blank white pages with a single word on each slide. (Fabulous either way!) Just remember that the point is to (hopefully) teach your fellow Campers about something, so creating your slides in a way that does this best is most ideal. Adding pictures, videos, screenshots of tweets, etc. can be a fun addition.
- o Giving a presentation is not required to attend. (Audiences are essential to Camp's Evening Social Events!)
- o Bring: have your presentation queued up on your laptop/computer so you're ready to screen-share it when it's your turn rainbow groups with Cheryl Schaffer (Medford, MA), Daphne Burt (Chicopee, MA), James Berglund (Oakland, CA), Jimmy Taglauer (Bethesda, MD), John Michel (Arlington, VA), Michael Schwarz (Astoria, NY), Michelle Rediker (Brighton, MA), Steve Bedenbaugh (Salinas, CA) & Tina Stewart (Westford, MA)

Join us for a virtual version of one of Camp's long-standing traditions. Consisting of 12-14 member cross sections of each summer's Campers & Staff, Rainbow Groups traditionally meet each morning to receive Orientation information and to participate in fun ice breakers and daily check-ins to discuss their Camp & other experiences. Even virtually, they'll offer a great way to meet people of all ages from all over the country easily without the pressure of a large group setting.

- o M-Sa 12:00-1:00pm EDT
- o Daily attendance is not required, but the more sessions you attend, the more you'll get out of your Rainbow Group experience.
- o Attendance at the first two Rainbow Group meetings is highly recommended, as waiting until mid-week or later to first join may feel a little awkward as the group's dynamics are usually established during the initial meetings.

sunday brunch

Our Executive Chefs Lyndsey Fox (Philadelphia, PA) and Louis Ray (Splendor, TX) will each be providing a specially selected recipe that you can make at home for a delightful Sunday brunch for our last day of Virtual Camp. Make one of their recipes, or just grab a bowl of cereal and join your fellow Campers for a virtual good-bye meal. ... And vegetarians/vegans, have no fear ('cuz don't we always hook y'all up as well?!): Assistant Director Mary Beth King (Tucker, GA) has provided a whole mini-buffet's worth of delicious vegan recipes, too!

- o Su (8/30) 1:00-2:00pm EDT
- o Breakout rooms will be available to facilitate small-group chatting.

talent/no talent show

Kim Sergent (Fowlerville, MI), Producer/Emcee

"Sing out, Louise!" Get your best performance together (be it musical, dramatic, or any other amazing or silly talent/no talent) and prepare to dazzle your fellow Campers with your spectacular skills in this ever-popular, traditional – yet distinctly 'Camp' Camp – event.

- o F 8:00-10:00pm EDT
- o Sign-up required prior to Tuesday evening the week of Camp, as available performance slots will be limited. To sign up, e-mail the show's producer, Kim Sergent, at sergkoh196@gmail.com with the subject line "Talent/No Talent Show" and include a brief description of your act.

- o All acts should be no more than 5 minutes in length.
- o No repeat acts from last year from returning Campers will be permitted; however, if you have an act from another previous year that you'd like to revive, this year is your chance to do so.
- o All participants must coordinate a Zoom or, at minimum, telephone call with Kim to verify act length and to determine the show's running order by Wednesday evening the week of Camp. (These may also be done the week prior to Virtual Camp so you don't have to miss any Virtual Camp activities, etc.)
- o Due to the sound delays inherent in Zoom, if your act requires accompaniment (such as a lip-sync number or a vocal/singing performance), you'll need to find/play your own track so that your accompaniment is synced as closely as possible. (We've found that syncing relies a lot on WiFi speed, etc. when it comes to the syncing of audio & video that your viewers will see & hear, so be aware not everyone may have the same experience of such acts.) You'll get the best sound quality if you can play the track right through the device you are using for the Zoom call. (E-mail Kerry for a plug-in you can install that may help improve sound quality.) We recommend testing various players/speakers with Kim or another friend via Zoom in advance to discover what gives you the best sound possible. If you're tech savvy enough to do so, you can also simply pre-record your lip-sync or vocal performance, and we can play during the show as a screen share on Zoom.
- o If you'll be doing an act with another Camper (or two or more) that will require featuring more than one person at a time in Zoom during the show, please let Kim know in advance so we are prepared for the request.

- Since there are always potential sound/video delays inherent in Zoom calls which may affect certain types of acts, we recommend thinking outside the box to create an act that is especially suited to a virtual show.
- Talent not required (thus the “No Talent” part), but a willingness to entertain and have fun a MUST!

trivia challenge

Jon Gann (Washington, DC),
Producer/Host

*Do you often feel like the biggest homo in the room, no matter where you are? Well, this event will give you a chance to prove it! Join Jon Gann, producer of fun past Camp events like Random Sh*t Show and Movie Magic Live!, for an entertaining (and maybe even enlightening) evening of LGBTQ trivia-based fun. Hang with your fellow Campers and test your knowledge of LGBTQ history, pop culture, and more, whether you opt to participate solo, or collaborate with a friend or two (or more!) during this casually competitive, self-scored event. You might just be surprised at what you learn...*

- W 8:00-10:00pm EDT
- Scoresheets will be posted online for download prior to the event.
- Bring: a pen or pencil to track your scores writing with Robin G. White (Sarasota, FL)

Everyone has story. Here is a chance to tell yours. Join Lambda Literary Award-Winning publisher, Astraea Foundation Poetry Prize judge, C.U.N.Y. Writer of Color Fellow, award-winning author, and ‘Camp’ Camp alum Robin for writing classes focused on storytelling through journaling, memoir, and poetry. During these sessions, you’ll explore descriptive writing, learn how to find and use writing prompts, and gain a new understanding of perspective. Most of all, you’ll have fun stretching your imagination and learning tools to tell stories while sharing your writing in a safe, confidential, and judgement-free space. (Hopefully, at least a touch of ‘Camp’ Camp irreverence will play a part as well!)

- M-Sa 3:00-5:00pm EDT
- No writing experience necessary.

- Non-sequential; attend any or all session(s).
- Bring: your willingness to try and an open mind; a composition book and a pen or pencil.
